PRESS RELEASE

COMINELLI FOUNDATION’S COMPETITION FOR CONTEMPORARY JEWELLERY

3rd edition of the Cominelli Foundation’s International Competition for Contemporary Jewellery 2012 organized by the Foundation and the AGC Contemporary Jewellery Association

43 artists have been selected to take part in the Competition

Contemporary Jewellery today represents a sector of advanced research, experimentation of new expressive languages and the enhancement of the concept of personal adornment.

The Cominelli Foundation aims on becoming a reference point for applied arts, not only an exhibition space but a place where applied arts “are done” through workshops and related conferences.

The AGC, Contemporary Jewellery Association, founded in 2004, is the promoter of numerous projects nationally to encourage and spread contemporary jewellery culture. The association works in close contact with the international jewellery community, organizing many events to stimulate a constructive and synergetic comparison with other artistic and productive realities.

Two prizes and three special mentions will be awarded to the participants in the exhibition.

The First Prize of 3.000 euros will be awarded to the artist whose work best represents contemporaneity in the world of jewellery.

The Second Prize a laptop will be awarded to the artist who is the most technically innovative.

The 3 Special Mentions will be for the research and experimentation of new languages.

The selection of the 43 participants in the competition was organized by Maria Cristina Bergesio, Historian of Jewellery and Contemporary Jewellery, author of important publications on the art of jewellery.
The criterion for the selection was the quality of goldsmith’s art, the originality and the contemporaneity of the pieces, represented in the registration phase, by photographs.

The selected artists:

Adam Grinovich, Alexander Blank, Ana Albuquerque, Bernhard Stimpfl-Abele, Ji Chang Chai, Chiara Scarpitti, Dania Chelminska, Diana Dudek, Emanuel Lacoste, Faarhah Al Dujaili, Flavia Fenaroli, Gabi Veit, Heidemarie Herb, Jasmin Matzakow, Judy Mc Caig, Jie Sun, Jo Pond, Katharina Moch, Laura Bradshaw-Heap, Lydia Hirte, Lisa Bjorke, Gigi Mariani, Maja Houtman, Maria Eugenia Lopez, Marianne Schliwinski, Mari Ishikawa, Marta Hryc, Maurizio Stagni, Michelle Sebbag, Mohsen Amini, Peter Hoogeboom, Ria Lins, Ritsuko Ogura, Sanna Svedstedt, Seul-Gi Kwon, Silke Trekel, Stephen Bottomley, Sung Ho Cho, Susan Cross, Teresa Dantas, Viktoria Munzker, Younghee Hong.

The Jury for the competition is made up of important figures in the world of art and Italian and International contemporary jewellery:

Michele Cassarino, chairman of the Cominelli Foundation
Daniel Kruger, goldsmith, teacher sculpture/jewelry Art School in Halle
Maria Cristina Bergesio, historian of jewellery and contemporary jewellery

The Permanent Collection is an important document of the Cominelli Foundation, a reason to visit for both jewellery lovers and workers; it is exhibited in Palazzo Cominelli, a Cisano di San Felice del Benaco.

The Collection maybe exhibited in museums and galleries in Italy and abroad.
This year, students of Graphic Design at the LABA Accademy - in Brescia taking Prof. Dario Bellini’s course on the combined use of different media, tempted and stimulated by the objects displayed in the last edition will take part by making video-portraits of the artists; every work will be made by 4 students on the course. The videos as well as documenting the Permanent Collection will be, for the students, an exercise in video television communication and allow them to directly approach the artists work.
